Image: GNU Free Documentation License The stories of love, revenge, conceit and power are why Greek mythology has held our fascination throughout the ages. And talk about plot twists! From shape-shifting to curses and never-ending tortures, the Greek myths were spellbinding. For instance, Hades had a cap or helmet that made its wearer invisible. Poseidon possessed a palace made of gems and coral, located on the ocean floor. Dionysus was the god of wine but also of ritual madness, religious ecstasy, and theater. Absolutely fascinating. So how well-versed are you in Greek mythology? This is your chance to prove it. Take the quiz now. One of the captivating features of Greek mythology was the cast of characters. There were heroes like Prometheus who was the protector and benefactor of mankind and monsters who were also gods. For instance, Typhon was a giant who was as tall as the stars. His hands stretched east and west and, instead of a human head, he had a hundred dragon heads that erupted from his neck and shoulders. The quiz will open your eyes to these mythical gods and an even larger cast of demi-god characters. Take the quiz now and see if you can do better than the 85% of people who can't name these Greek gods. Athena, also called Athene, was a very important goddess. She was goddess of wisdom, courage, inspiration, civilization, law and justice, strategic warfare, mathematics, strength, strategy, the arts, crafts, and skill. She was Zeus' favorite child. Apollo was the god of the sun, light, knowledge, music, art, poetry, oracles, medicine, archery, and prophecy. Symbols intertwined with Apollo are the golden chariot, bows and arrows, the raven, the lyre, the wolf, deer, and the laurel tree. Apollo was born on the Greek island of Delos. Image: Shutterstock Disney has done a great deal to promote the idea that the best thing you can be is a princess. Sheryl Sandberg has promoted the idea of being the C-level executive. Oprah wants women to be every sort of inspirational that a woman can be. Still, while you're adopting all of those roles, it's important not to forget that what you really have going for you is that on some level, you're a goddess. That is, you have a spark of divine fire in you that means you don't have to take any crap from anyone, and you can fulfill your potential without apologizing for your ambition and drive.Still, not all goddesses are the same. Some are loving and nurturing - not because they have to be, but because they choose to be. Some are wrathful and judgmental, demanding perfection from their followers. Some decide to patronize fertility, family, or hearth and home, while others focus on education, work, hunting, or all manner of other aspects of the human condition. Which area a goddess chooses to focus on depends entirely on her personality, her priorities, and what she expects from the people around her. Tell us how you feel about all of that, and we'll help you find your goddess name! Each with their own ruling specialty, Greek goddesses handled everything from the harvest to entertainment. Once you compare yourself to some of the most fierce women in the ancient Greek world, you'll learn which one of them you embody the most! Goddesses like Aphrodite were known for their ability to love, but goddesses like Nemesis were famous for their unbridled sense of vengeance. As you go through our questions, we'll present you with a goddess. Then, we'll ask you to answer using your personal style. By the time you finish, we'll know which position you would have held while sitting atop Mount Olympus. Your real personality will be the key to finding out, so don't hold back or be too modest! As a culture, the ancient Greeks were both warring and concerned with the survival of humankind. Though they had a belief system much different from the ones we hold today, many of the goddesses are still revered for their ruling style. After you put yourself in their sandals, the goddess you are most like will be revealed. Are you ruled by victories like Nike or the nighttime like Nyx?
